

Come out and join
Percy Green and Norman Seay
and Other Workers' Rights Activists
in commemorating the 55th Anniversary
Jefferson Bank Protest

Friday August 24, 2018 4:00-5:30 pm

Jefferson Bank & Trust
2301 Market Avenue (near Jefferson)

The march commemorates the struggle to hire Black employees at Jefferson Bank, then located in the predominantly African American community. When the bank rebuilt in a white business area a few blocks away, they got rid of its Black employees, causing outrage from the Black community and other fair-minded people. On August 28, 1963, nineteen Black and white St. Louisans were arrested and spent weeks in jail for protesting the injustice. The commemoration is also part of the bigger fight for livable wage jobs, safe working conditions and the right to form unions.

*(Water will be provided. Please bring your umbrellas for shade and lawn chairs if you need to take a rest. )
For more info, please call 314 367 5959*